FRENCH TUTOR

The Oxford School of French is seeking a French Tutor as an addition to its brilliant team. The Oxford School of French has offered French courses and tuition in Oxford since 1987. We provide courses which are either tailor-made for the individual – or held in exceptionally small classes (maximum of 5) for students of a similar level. Classes are scheduled weekly, and a course typically follows an academic term.

To join our team, you will need to be:

- a native French-speaker
- DBS checked
- available a few hours per week (including one or two evenings)
- able to teach French to adults, teenagers or children from a variety of levels
- already based in Oxford or its surroundings

Ideally, you will have:

- experience in teaching (or other relevant experience)
- a Master's degree in either French as a Foreign Language, French Literature, History, Sciences, Law, Politics and Economics or Philosophy

There will be a short in-house training period. The salary will depend on experience.

Interviews will take place as soon as possible.

If you are interested to be part of our team, please send your resume and statement letter to the following email address: team@oxfordschooloffrench.com
